

SITE PHOTOGRAPHS

The Un-named Intermittent, Headwater, Tributary Stream that Ultimately Discharges to the West Branch of the Saugatuck River in Weston, CT.

The Vegetated Wetland Bordering the Intermittent, Headwater, Tributary Stream

Upland Forest on the Fratelli Zeta Property.

Sugar Maple – a Native Tree Species designated as a Species of Greatest Conservation Need in CT’s Wildlife Action Plan – is a characteristic Species of the Site’s Mesic Forest Canopy

Chestnut Oak Seedlings have Sprouted in the More Xeric Portions of the Forest Slope.

A Trail Transects the Property in an East-West Orientation

Evidence of Deer Hunting Occurring on the Property.