Captain Obvious Kicks Off Summer Concert Series This Sunday at Schenck's Island

All-star cover band, Captain Obvious, featuring Wilton's Andy Schlesinger, John Taylor, Dan Berg, Mike Oliver and Dave Valle, are back to kick off this year's summer concert series on Sunday, July 11th from 5:00 – 7:00 pm at Schenck's Island in Wilton Center. These Wilton Rocks for Food favorites will play a diverse set of recognizable songs designed to have you singing along and up dancing.

Long time veterans of the local music scene, the band has played together since 2015, led by Andy on guitar along with John on guitar, Dan on bass, Mike on vocals, and Dave on drums. Visit their website to learn more: <https://www.captainobvious.rocks>

Come enjoy some great music by local talent! Attendance is free. Bring a blanket and chairs. Since parking is not available at Schenck's Island, attendees can park in the Center and arrive early to grab take-out from Wilton's nearby restaurants. Additional seating is available across the river at the Chess Park. In case of inclement weather, please call (203) 454-5188.

For questions about the Wilton Summer Concert Series, please contact Parks and Recreation Director Steve Pierce at steve.pierce@wiltonct.org or (203) 834-6234, x 6.
