To whom it may concern,

As president of the Norwalk River Watershed Association and member of the steering committee of the Pollinator Pathway Northeast, I am writing to confirm the close working relationship these two organizations have with the Norwalk River Valley Trail.

We have worked hand-in-hand with Charlie Taney, Beth Merrill, and NRVT volunteers for the last four years to help plant native bird and pollinator-friendly plants, and remove invasives, along the NRVT. I have every confidence that the NRVT organizers will continue to consult and collaborate with Pollinator Pathway experts about native plantings along the trail and best practices for keeping invasives at bay sustainably.

Please let me know if I can provide more information.

Sincerely,

Louise Washer
