

May 12, 2021

Wilton EDC Webinar: Local Flexible Workspace Opportunities

Wilton's Economic Development Commission (EDC) is hosting a webinar on Wednesday May, 26 from 7 - 8pm to discuss flexible workspace opportunities in Wilton. All Wilton residents are welcome.

(Add Link)

Whether you are considering shared space, part-time space, incubator office space or satellite office space, there are many flexible opportunities available right here in town.

We want to welcome our many new residents to town and recognize that there are many commuters that have been working from home during the pandemic. There are also a number of small and startup businesses that may be looking for added workspace options. This webinar is designed to enlighten all on the many different hybrid and full-time options available in Wilton.

Summer means kids at play and at home. Remote workers, home workers, employers and business owners may be looking for hybrid, full time or just different work environments.

A brief presentation will be made by Mike Robinson, Area Manager of IWG (International Workplace Group) on some of the smaller, more flexible share options in the area. Also on the webinar will be Lee Wilson, a commercial real estate landlord in Wilton, to discuss small office options that may be available in town.